

Benson Boone, Hello Love

Hello love I missed your face
But I fear you feel a different way
When You look at me with those empty eyes
I could pass away I could bleed and die
All this time I never knew
If you were leaving me or I was leaving you
Now I'm caught between the black and blue
And you've tied me up and I'm forced to choose

Oh I'm lost
I don't know where I've gone
Won't you hold me while this storm is in my head
I'm alone and I can barely catch my breath
Woo
Hello love don't you fade away

Just a little less go and a little more stay
I could try to blame you but my mind ain't safe
Like two fireworks tied to a rollerblade
I'm still lost
But I'm still holding on
Won't you hold me while this storm is in my head
Oh I'm alone and I can barely catch my breath
Don't you go away
Don't let it die in vain
I'd give anything to feel it all again
Oh Oh
