

Berlin, Will I Ever Understand You

Mirror mirror tell me beware coldly revealing all the faces i wear from a teasing smile for boys on the street to a shifty glance for eyes looking too deep feel the light as it shines so bright will i ever understand you reach inside the truth is alive

always fighting to find out why but it seems the answer fades into a white flag sky
