

Berman, Face The Night

pushing outward and seeping in no one's falling it's left within

time keeps on tickin' away smile when you see today take one more step away tomorrow turns into today and face the night

hold your breath,
take one more step to light crossing four lines and breaking down no one's counting

we're gaining ground
