

Best Coast, Last Year

I used to believe in diamonds and things
I used to believe in you and me
But now I believe in nothing

I used to wake up in the morning
And reach for that bottle of glass
But I don't do that anymore
Kicked my habits out the front door

And I'm always talking to somebody else
But she doesn't even know my face
I don't know how I feel
I'm all over the place

And when I go out I don't feel anything
I just keep on spending my money
One day it will be gone
And then I'll have to write another song

What a year this day has been
What a day this year has been
Please don't get me wrong
I just don't know where time has gone

What a year this day has been
What a day this year has been
Please don't get me wrong
I just don't know where my mind has gone
