

Beth Hart, Hiding Under Water

Heaven dont want me
Heaven dont fool me
Noone will understand and its alright
Feelin these changes
Everybody is strangers
Noone will lend a hand
And i guess thats life
(1 2 3 4)
Ya say you got a feelin
You figured out the writing on the wall
And angels on the ceiling
Dont calm you, when you call
So you found youre own religion
And search youre heart for somethin more
Stood naked in the kitchen, tryin to wipe yourself off of the floor
No i wont take you for granted
These broken arms can hold you
No i wont take you for granted, yeah
You say it dont matter
Youre livin life and livin alone
And hear the phony laughter
Echoing on and on Youre hiding under water
I pray to god wash me away
Cant hear the childs wonder
The innocence got hushed along the way
No i wont take you for granted
These broken arms can hold you
No i wont take you for granted
No i wont leave you abandoned
This broken heart can love you still
No i wont take you for granted
And you dont say you will
But inside i know
And you dont say that it hurts
And tonight youve shown
All the love in the world
Wont let you let go
Let you let go-o-o-o
Hold on youre soul will rise again
I know that it will
Hold on youre soul will rise again
I say that it will
Hold on youre soul will rise again
I know that it will now
Heaven dont want me
Heaven dont fool me
Noone could give a damn
And i guess thats life
You say ya got a feelin.....