

Beth Hart, Over You

Lonelier tonight than a sinking stone
I can hardly breath
I am drowning in the dark wrong is never right still I'm breaking bones & every part of me
I hear the pounding of my heart

Mama I can hardly wait take a little chance on fate chew it up and spill it out Finally see what love's about

I'm living loving laughing over you
Tossing Turning Trying over you
Kicking Screaming Crying over you
Wanting Needing Dying to get over you

Mama always said that you'll know better
When you do grow up all you gotta do is breath
Take a little look inside yourself & see what turns you on and then you will finally see

Well mama I can hardly wait to take a little chance on fate
Kick it up into the sky
Finally see what love feels like

I'm living loving laughing over you
Tossing Turning Trying over you
Kicking Screaming Crying over you
Wanting Needing Dying to get over you

I'm living loving laughing over you
Tossing Turning Trying over you
Kicking Screaming Crying over you
Wanting Needing Dying to get over you
