

Beth, Mama

Those who are mothers
Now I understand you, I can love you even more
Words they are not enough
How can I explain the feeling that you know

But if you leave me, and no one kisses me
I could never be holly loved
And if you leave me, who will take care of me?
No one but you

'Cause I know mum what's in your head
And you know that my love will never end
Listen close, let me tell you 'cause I want you to know

Those who are daughters
Now I understand you, I can love you even more
Be close to your mothers
'Cause ain't no bigger lovers in this world

But if you leave them, and no one kisses them
They could never be holly loved
And if you leave them, who will take care of them?
No one like you

Cause you know mum what's in my head
And I know that your love will never end
Listen close, let me hear you 'cause I do want to know

Maybe I'm going my own way
I'm living my own life and it feels all right
But tell me if you ever need me wherever you could be and I'll come around

'Cause I know mum what's in your head
And you know that my love will never end
Listen close, let me tell you 'cause I want you to know

'Cause I know mum what's in your head
And you know that my love will never end
Listen close, let me tell you cause I want you to know
