

Beverly Craven, Lost Without You

All the years of living alone thinking of myself were filled with days of emptiness and room for no one else I found a haven in isolation with nothing to lose safe and lonely thinking of only what I had to prove
I was lost without you
I was lost without you
like being frozen in time disillusioned with life
until I knew
I found myself in you

I remember being afraid of my destiny fear of change or losing my way and my identity then something bigger just took over and it happened so fast lying here, my head on your shoulder reliving the past

I was lost without you
I was lost without you
like being frozen in time
until I knew
I found myself in you
I found myself in you

And all the love I needed to give finally found a home you've given me a reason to live can't go back don't let go

I was lost without you
lost without you
going out of my mind
until I knew
I was lost without you
lost without you
until I knew
I found myself in you
I found myself in you
