

Beverly Craven, Love Scenes

I wonder what she says to you, when you're alone together
My imagination is so cruel, picturing you holding hands, and doing the things that we planned
Sharing everything day and night, Making memories
You're playing Love Scenes without me, and she's got my role
Starring as your leading lady, and stealing the show

I wanted to be with you forever, we belonged together
But my affection was too strong, I played it all wrong, chasing you, and ruining things like I do I'd give anything to turn back time, or get over you...

You're playing Love Scenes without me, and she's got my role
Starring as your leading lady, and stealing the show

Am I just wasting my time, still believing someday you'll realise
They're my lines, what she says to you, for the rest of your lives

You're playing Love Scenes without me, and she's got my role
Starring as your leading lady, and stealing the show

You're playing Love Scenes without me, and she's got my role
Starring as your leading lady, and stealing the show