Beyoncé, Love Drought

10 time out of 9 I know you're trying But 9 time outta 10 I know you're trying So I'm to be fair And you're trying to be there and to care And you're caught up in your permanent emotions All the loving I've been giving goes unnoticed It's just floating in the air Lookie there Are you aware you're my lifeline Are you tryna kill me? If I wasn't me Would you steel feel me? Like on my worst day Or am I not thirsty, enough? I don't care about the lights or the beams Spend my life in the dark for the sake of you and me Only way to go is up Skin thick Too thought

Coz you and me could move a mountain You and me could calm a war down You and me could make it rain nom You and me could stop this love drought
