

Beyoncé, Satellites

Satellites, flashing by
It's a beautiful state we're in
But how can we love in isolation
Think how happy we can be
When we just try
We're nothing like we seem
Passionate words are never spoken
You don't know how I bleed
When I leave your side
In your eyes, love is a life
We've come untied
Cause we're flashing by like satellites
Satellites
Take all the rules away
How can we live if we don't change
We're always on display
Let's run and hide
In our eyes, love is a life
We've come untied
Cause we're flashing by like satellites
Satellites
If we don't communicate
We'll exist in our own space
We'll have all the love we need
While we're apart I cannot breathe
Satellites, flashing by
