

Bif Naked, Never Alone

Lying in your hotel bed you cry,
For the years that were wasted and time gone by,
Darling girl can you not see your soul is bright,
I wish you could know its all gonna be alright

A little determination,
and a little more pride,
A little determination will ease your pain inside

Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)
Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)

Red wine stains your lips and mind,
Clouding memories from which you always hide,
Little girl when will you learn to shake it off?
Try to smile or the pain surely will not stop

A little determination,
and a little more pride,
A little determination will ease your pain inside

Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)
Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)
yea.... yea.... yea

A little determination,
and a little more pride,
A little dertermination will ease your pain inside

Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)
Let me tell you that you're never alone (you're never alone yea.... yea... yea)
oh yea.... yea... yea
never alone
never alone.....
You're never alone
