

Big Bang, Anchorhea

You will never know how it feels
You will never know how it takes
You will never know what it brings
To me
But its nothing for me
Days will never reach nor ever end
And you will never preach nor ever sin
Forever, honey, is dying
And its nothing for me
You will never know whats the price cause you could not ever have Money enough nor charm enough
Forever, honey, is dying
But its nothing for me
I dont deserve any last hope
If you need me
You will never fall from your grace
You could never stand all the weight
All the lead in my brain, all my pain
Its heavy enough and sweet enough
But its nothing for me
I dont deserve any last hope
If you need me
