Big Big Train, 28 Years

Well I go a long way to the blame say what you will sing what you can I'll be there to take your hand lead you to the promised land. Well I'd only be here on earth 28 years and my life up to then had taken a turn for the worst. Now I can't get my feet up off the ground throw it all down in my face. But when all is over the ending will come and I will be back where I started right where I begun.
