Big Country, Dynamite Lady

I'd better be leaving She said then she whispered They're waiting for me at the fairground tonight I'll never be back and I'll never be missed But I leave something here And that doesn't seem right All of the time I just travel and travel Am I running away or am I running home There's a man and a family Somewhere in the suburbs I forget his name and I can't find the town Boom goes the world of the dynamite lady Making her way with a flash and a bang Boom goes the life of the dynamite lady Picking up the pieces wherever she can All of my days hang on one fiery moment A hushing of crowds and a dimming of lights And I lie curled up like a child in the darkness I die if its wrong I'm reborn if it's right Boom goes the world of the dynamite lady Making her way with a flash and a bang

Boom goes the life of the dynamite lady Picking up the pieces wherever she can I walk through the clouds and I don't hear the cheers There's a sound in my head that you almost could see And the look in their eyes says I might as well live It was already over before the dust cleared Boom goes the world of the dynamite lady Making her way with a flash and a bang Boom goes the life of the dynamite lady Picking up the pieces wherever she can Boom goes the world of the dynamite lady Making her way with a flash and a bang Boom goes the life of the dynamite lady Picking up the pieces wherever she can Boom goes the world of the dynamite lady Making her way with a flash and a bang Boom goes the life of the dynamite lady Picking up the pieces wherever she can Making her way with a flash and a bang Picking up the pieces wherever she can
