

Bill Anderson, It Can't Go Anywhere But Wrong

(Bill Anderson)

So kiss my lips goodnight and head on home
It can't go anywhere but wrong
It's been a lotta fun baby
And all the money in the world
Couldn't buy back these precious memories
In fact I'm counting on the warmth of your love
To live here in my heart forever like a beautiful song

But I'm afraid if we didn't say goodbye tonight
And part as friends we may never get the chance to
'Cause from here it can't go anywhere but wrong
We've pushed our luck to make it as long as it has
You know that as well as I do.

Nobody anywhere even has
The slightest idea of what's been goin' on
But if we're not careful
The one thing that's looked so beautiful to us
Is gonna look so ugly in the eyes of the world
I'm tellin' you baby it can't go anywhere but wrong.

I want you to get out of the car
Come here and stand with me by the side of the road
Look out there in the distance for a minute
But it's a mean old world out there baby.

And they don't understand people like me and you
Who just want to love and be left alone
I don't know where this old highway goes
But I'm gonna turn around right now.

And start walkin' in the other direction by myself
'Cause together it can't go anywhere but wrong
So kiss my lips goodnight and head on home
It can't go anywhere but wrong...
