

Bill Anderson, Just Enough to Make Me Want It A

You gave me just enough of you to make me want it all

You held me in your arms just tight enough to make me tremble

And the sexy way you looked at me drove me up the wall

I thought for sure I'd die and gone to heaven when you kissed me

You gave me just enough of you to make me want it all

I went home and went to bed and layed awake till morning

And I stared at the telephone just wishing you would call

I've got to slip away with you and feed this gnawing hunger

You gave me just enough of you to make me want it all

You gave me just enough to make me want it all

To lie with you and reach inside and touch your very soul

I'd follow you to anywhere I'd walk I'd run I'd crawl

You gave me just enough of you to make me want it all

You gave me just enough of you to make me want it all
