

Bill Anderson, Truer Love You'll Never Find

(Red Lane - H.R. Delaughter)

You emptied all my pockets
You took away my gold
You stripped me of my innocence
And left me in the cold.

You robbed me of my patience
And you messed up my mind
But we're gonna stick together babe
'Cause a truer love you'll never find than mine.

You set my very soul on fire
And burned it to the ground
You took my lovely little world
And turned it upside down.

You robbed me of my patience
And you messed up my mind
But we're gonna stick together babe
'Cause a truer love you'll never find than mine.

But we're gonna stick together babe
'Cause a truer love you'll never find than mine...
