

Bill Ricchini, A Cold Wind Will Blow Through Your

Night will follow day
Sure as the sun and moon
Remember I will always be with you

For not a word to say
And I understand you
When you see a darkness coming through

Remember to keep warm
Take shelter from the storm
The night will not last for much more
I wrote in a small note
Put on your winter coat
A cold wind will blow through your door

Night will follow day
Sure as the sun and moon
Remember I will always be with you

Just fold your hands and pray
And I am beside you
Tell mother I'll help to see you through

Remember to keep warm
Take shelter from the storm
The night will not last for much more
I wrote in a small note
Put on your winter coat
A cold wind will blow through your door
