

Billie Jo Spears, Meanwhile Back In My Heart

I really always knew that it was just a matter of time
Until you'd be a painted entry on the pages of my mind
That's what I say when people ask while we're apart
But meanwhile back in my heart
Nothing's changed changed there you're still in love with me
It's still the same same there the way it used to be
And when I smile and say I'm better off this way well I'm just playing a part
Cause meanwhile back in my heart

The friends that we both knew they just can't believe what they see
They caught my world would fall apart without you here with me
But I just say it took a while then I got smart
But meanwhile back in my heart
Nothing's changed changed there...
Baby I need you so back in my heart
