Billie Jo Spears, Snowbird

Beneath this snowy mantle cold and clean The unborn grass lies waiting for its coat to turn to green The snowbird sings the song he always sings And speaks to me of flowers that will bloom again in spring

When I was young my heart was young then too Anything that it would tell me that's the thing that I would do But now I feel such emptiness within For the thing that I want most in life's the thing that I can't win

Spread your tiny wings and fly away
And take the snow back with you where it came from on that day
The one I love forever is untrue
And if I could you know that I would fly away with you

The breeze along the river seems to say That he'Il only break my heart again should I decide to stay So little snowbird take me with you when you go To that land of gentle breezes where the peaceful waters flow

Spread your tiny wings and fly away... Yeah if I could you know that I would fly away with you
