

Billy Burnette, The Edge Of Love

Written by billy burnette and robb royer.

Well love's an ocean, deep and wide
Too big to see the other side
What's waiting there for me and you
Out in the blue
We'll never know until we try

It may be a rough and raging sea
That goes on for eternity
Throw your caution to the wind
Sink or swim
Just jump in and?

(chorus)
Let me rock you on the water
Where the winds of passion blow
If we go drifting out too far
We'll follow the brightest star

To the edge of love

Let me take you to another world
Where you an feel the undertow
And if that's getting in too deep
Just come with me at least
To the edge of love

Honey, let's just ride the wave
And let it carry us away
Let your heart just be your guide
I'll be there right by your side
Don't be afraid

We can tell each other's history
And leave the rest to mystery
We may never understand
Hold on tight, take my hand and?

(repeat chorus)
