

Billy Walker, Joey's Back In Town

When I woke up this morning everything seemed wrong
I'd realized my greatest fear the one our love was gone
She left in a world of emptiness I'm wondering what happened to my happiness
The reason for it all was in a letter that I've found
All she said and all I read was Joe is back in town
Joe is back in town that's what she said today she let me down wish I was dead
I was standing in for him I know but still I hang around
A hoping she might love me knowing she would leave me
Anytime that Joe is back in town (anytime that Joe is back in town)
Joe is back in town that's what she said...
