

Billy Walker, Just Call Me Lonesome

Why must I love a heartless one who'll never know the harm she's done
Though love is blind I should have known just call me lonesome from now on I climb the stairs up to my room but no one meets me in my gloom
The silence tells me she is gone just call me lonesome from now on [ steel ]
These walls will hide me when I cry I pray to heaven I could die
What good is life when love is gone just call me lonesome from now on I pray my memories at last will fade into the distant past
If I must live and love alone just call me lonesome from now on
