

Black Stone Cherry, Screamin At The Sky

Oh Lord, get me a witness
I need to say what I'm feeling
We've had enough of this shit
You know we all need some healing

Tears are brief but the grief
Lasts a lifetime

Let's start a fire let it burn out the silence
That's killing us inside
Let's paint a picture so we always remember
Screaming at the sky

Over before it begins
I know that's what they're all saying
Just so we're all well aware
This ain't a game that we're playing

We roll the dice once or twice
In a lifetime

Let's start a fire let it burn out the silence
That's killing us inside
Let's paint a picture so we always remember
Screaming at the sky

Let's start a fire let it burn out the silence
That's killing us inside
Let's paint a picture so we always remember
Screaming at the sky
