

Blackhawk, Who Am I Now

(Charlie Black/Laying Martine, Jr.)

If someone asked me who I was
I'd respond in terms of us
It's hard to recall the day
When I didn't think that way
I was one half of you and me
That was my identity

Who am I now, now that you're gone
Gotta find out I gotta be strong
When I had you I had no doubt
I was the one you loved
Who am I now

Every room that I walk through
I see a world that's based on twos
Every friend we ever knew
I wonder now whose friend is whose
Like some ghost come through that door
Someone we all knew before

Who am I now, now that you're gone
Gotta find out I gotta be strong
When I had you I had no doubt
I was the one you loved
Who am I now

I will survive
But I don't know how, now that you're gone
Gotta find out I gotta be strong
When I had you I had no doubt
I was the one you loved
Who am I now

Now that you're gone
Gotta find out I gotta be strong
When I had you I had no doubt
I was the one you loved
Who am I now

Who am I now...
