

Blackmail, It Could Be Yours

Maybe I should sit and stare
It's so different now but you don't even care
You have asked me with a grin
If you could have it all and if I would let you in

It could be yours
with all the odds and ends
but don't come back again

It could be yours
Take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave

You'd better get on someone else well, I won't beg you please to tell me how it felt All that I regret is that we met
I only wish you leave 'cause you just bend my head

It could be yours
with all the odds and ends
but don't come back again

It could be yours
Take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave

It could be yours with all the odds and ends
I don't need anything don't come back again to me

It could be yours
take everything you need
I'm begging you to leave
