Blackpool Lights, This Town's Disaster

I seem to push motives aside How many days was last night On the verge of a collapse I knew that it would never last

Wasted, this town's disaster is sinking in And all my world is caving in

All this guilt will weigh me down The king of pain I'd wear the crown Battered cliche in moves I make This was my last mistake

Wasted, this town's disaster is sinking in And all my world is caving in Where do I start, I can't begin This town's disaster is sinking in

A little weak and on and on Another day and I'll be gone, so gone
