Blake Babies, Star

You ring me up and you bring me down. I never know if you'll come around. I like the salty taste in my mouth. Ten minutes on the lips, ten days without.

If I were a star, Would you look at me when you're lying there in the dark? If I called on you from far away, Would you say the things I want you to say?

What would you say if I shined at night? If everyone wanted a piece of my light? Would you say the name? Would you finally be the guy who can't get enough of me?

If I were a star, Would you think of me when you're lying there in the dark? If I called on you from far away, Would you say the things I want you to say?

Just think of what I could be and not what I am. The envy of every woman, the dream of every man.

If I were a star, Would you look at me when we're lying there in the dark? If I called on you from far away, Would you say the things I want you to say?