

Bleak, Greyclouds

the dark sky prevails, the rain beats hard and i feel free... in grey clouds with a little more time i'll get up and leave and leave everything and all this behind i'll stand on the edge and watch the grey clouds today, the day is mine... the grey clouds prevail, the wind blows hard and i am free... in grey clouds i get up cold, walk out the door and see the sky that i adore this day is mine, i now can see... and feel the rain seep into me this day is mine and i want more i cannot walk back through the door the rain beats hard, beats hard on me the day is here, i now can see
