

BLIND, Amaze Me

In your majestic might so high
You still seem to find the time to cry
Your tears they form an ocean blue
So vast, yet none of us need to die
For our disrespect and lack of fear
From a curs'ed tree you shed a tear
In my confusion there is hope
A comfort in you
The eternal peace you offer me
A comfort in you
Whenever you weep the rain falls down
Father's love forms puddles all around
Ignorant humans they continue their way
Raincoats on, dodging puddles, on the ground
You are my friend, you amaze me so
You didn't just die for us
You lived for us too
