

Blind Guardian, A Dark Passage

I feel cold
Facing the darkness
The light's gone away
Deep in his castle he said
All land'll be mine There's one thing for sure The triumph of shadow is near Deep in his castle they sang We shall not rest Until all will be thyne

All land is mine
You can be sure Don't dare me
the mighty one screamed Smashed down the light
I will not rest till I'm king Valinor's empty now allied the elves and men they shall be damned

Rise of Fall
a dark tale ends

just wondering how
in the darkness
they found their way to the right place
children of the sun
second kindred
we call their race
treat them kindly born in the east (are the) nightfearer
they moved westwards
towards the sunshine (they are) morning breath like short's their life (like) dawn passes by when the day comes the field was lost
(and) hope had passed away the sun went down
beyond the sea
dark was the hour
but day shall come again

[chorus]

Clean my wounds
wash away all fear
let courage be mine
no one hears me crying

no song no tale
which contains all the grief (but) renowned the deeds
and the victims of defeat

sit down on your chair and look out for your kin with my eyes you'll see and with my ears you'll hear you troubled my day and you've questioned my strength (but) don't mess

with the master of fate

[chorus]

I smashed down the light and dared Valinor
I smashed down the light
revenge will be mine

Slowly marching on still we're marching on