

Blood on the dance floor, Find your way

Any intelligent fool can make things bigger and more complex. It takes a touch of genius and a lot of
Find. Your. Way.
Find. Your. Way.
I'm 'bout the love and the rage; I'll be the one race
Different colors and different shades, but I see the color grey
We all bleed and breathe the same fucking way
So why can't you keep your mouth shut if you have nothing nice to say?
I don't get what the big deal is with everyone and their hate
I wish it wasn't closed fists, just the wrong things to say
I'm only here for the day, I heard the world needed to be saved
I got my crew, I got the truth, all I need is my cue!
You don't need a cape (to save today)
You don't need a cape to save the day
Make your own faith (to find your way)
Peace and love is the only way
Used to run this world but now we hardly own it
Who would've known that even our president would be homophobic?
And why is it we vote towards the obvious lie?
Sending our people to another fucking country to die
We trap innocent people in cages to tame them
Just 'cause we're jealous, frustrated or hate them
You're really gonna diss cause of who I sleep with?
I'm grown up now, not taking your shit
I'll say "fuck that, I'll be a gay man"
I'll take my stand
I'll rip bitches throats out with my bare hands
No mercy for the ones who refuse our demands
Destroying our own home
The answer Changes from no to a maybe
But I won't let this world go
So I'm taking my chance to save it
You don't need a cape (to save today)
To make discoveries, not mistakes
Make your own fate (to find your way)
Remember this before you will break
Find. Your. Way.
Find. Your. Way.
Find. Your. Way.
Find. Your. Way.
Find. Your. Way.
Unmasking the tears
You don't need a cape (to save today)
You don't need a cape to save the day
Make your own fate (To find your way)
Peace and love is the only way
You don't need a cape (to save today)
To make discoveries, not mistakes
Make your own fate (to find your way)
Remember this before you will break
