

Bloodjinn, The Heart That Died...

i fell away, when was i wrong? with no help, do i belong? and the tears fall down my face. with no help, im disgraced. as laughter proceeds within and between. is it suicide? or a dream? its all just so hard to believe. i wont follow at the sorrow, empty and hollow. whats becoming a bliss. close encounters, darkness traps me. opening up the floor of life. your thoughts hide, your pain cries, your heart lies. trying to justify whats inside your life. and i never thought it would end like this. upon the stars that gaze each kiss. will i ever see you again in time before it ends? the times turning all towards ending. would it pierce, my thoughts of you? realize that theres silence in a world which i live. and i will not become. my fate all is forgotten. live, love and regret.
