

Bloody Sunday, Through His Blood

when i was young
i questioned my faith
at a time when i was searching and now i look back
when i'm down
whenever i hurt
think of Christ and I think of the Cross just when i thought the walls were closing in
in came the trap
think and react
never again will i turn my back never again will i question my faith hold on tight and close my eyes and pray will every beat of my heart never think twice
hold up my cross
never again will i deny my faith
i break down
i am alone
stick right by every word of the Book
when i forgive what they've done won't have no more questions to ask with Him close to my heart live my life
with no regrets
