Bo Bice, My World

Did you know that you were leaving when you first told me your name Convince me that you love me while planning your escape Always looking past me on to someone else's face Tell me Is he all the things you tried to change me into

Tell me does he make you high?
Does he make you real?
Does he make you cry?
Does he know the way you feel?
Love is all around you
Your universe is full
But in my world
There is only you
Yeah, there is only you

Kept me at a distance while you told me you want more Plans about our future made with one foot out the door You say that it's over but there's some things I can't ignore Tell me Is he all the things you tried to change me into

Tell me does he make you high?
Does he make you real?
Does he make you cry?
Does he know the way you feel?
Love is all around you
Your universe is full
But in my world

I have my fears, you let them out Now I wrap myself around you like a blanket full of doubt The darkness burns, the sunlight stings Cause he's holding everything

Does he make you high?
Does he make you real?
Does he make you cry?
Does he know the way you feel?
Love is all around you
Your universe is full
But in my world

You made me high
You made me real
You made me cry
Now you know the way I feel
Love is all around you
Your universe is full
But in my world
There is only you.
