

Bodyjar, Don't Trust Anyone how can you stand there and tell me that you've never lied behind my back dont think that your little excuses make the sound of emptiness go away dont tell me

im not listening
i close my mind to everyone outside its my world and i dont have to let you in this is where i'll be starting again today

now i've made a mistake i've had all i can take
for granted
and i dont trust anyone

i've done all i can do
i wont listen to you forever cos i dont trust anyone trust anyone

if i ever see you with your friends i'll just pretend i dont know you its easy to remember times when we had simple words to explain

its wasted because there's something that i said and the words that i only regret

trust anyone
