

Bodyjar, You Say

You say you live your life so perfectly,
So how can I begin to see a shade of human life?
You see a person's stance so crucially,
Criteria for you and me and hate them just the same

You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall

You say you live a life of poverty,
That you partake of willingly,
I knows who pays for you...
I see, the only option clear to me,
So hard to speak up over me,
The only way I know...

You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
You say...

Everything I said might not be true,
But it's the only way you'll let me think...
Of you...

You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
But it's all come to fall
You say, You say (You say, You say)
You say, You say...
