Bolt Thrower, Salvo

Out beyond the recon point Battle weary, nerves now frayed One step closer to oblivion Abandoned life the price to pay

The final sacrifice - ushered to the grave There is no time to run or hide No chance to pray

Mankind's legacy - past knowledge saved Glory not given - respect is made

Stranded in no man's land Water always tastes the same Trapped within this shell hole There is no shelter from the steel rain Dead men again

Still unchallenged Forging on No respite Until this war is won

Relentless barrage never ceasing Artillery has found its range Caught within the crossfire There is no shelter from the steel rain Dead men again

White-hot shrapnel fills the sky

Advancing ever onwards
Conditioned reflex feel no pain
At the point beyond insane
There is no shelter from the steel rain

There is no shelter from the steel rain Dead men again
