Bolt Thrower, Where Next To Conquer

Lost on a voyage with no destiny Forgotten original ideology

Generations born and died Their intentions misplaced through time Another world falls to its knees With vast contempt your hatred breads

There's nowhere left for us to slaughter Annihilation achieved Where next to conquer?

Civilizations of the past Faced attrition now ripped apart Moving onwards to another war Into battle to die once more

An endless spiral of depravity Mankind's journey throughout infinity

Where next to conquer?
