Bon Jovi, Come Back

Now that you're gone, I can see what Was going on and how you lied When you'd said you'd never love again

Friends telephone and they say You weren't out alone last night Can't you see that this broken heart Is killing me

Another night is falling And now my heart is calling you back to me

Chorus:

Come back cause I need your love Come back got to have your love Come back bring your loving back to me Come back cause it's been so long Come back, and my love's still strong Come back bring your loving back to me

You play with words play with love It's just your silly way I'm a fool cause I need you by my side again

Now it's too late you walk by With another man And I stand alone Cause I know that you're not coming home

Another night is falling And now my heart is calling you back to me

Chorus

Chorus
