

Bon Jovi, Lonely

Theres a whole lotta lonely waiting out there
theres a whole lotta people that'll lead you nowhere so be safe my lover let me offer my prayer
waiting out there
theres a whole lotta kisses
and the world you been missing that don't play fair let me off you comfort and show you how much i care theres a whole lotta lonely waiting out there when love is blind sometimes the lies can get you through the night im holding on to what i need till you're too tired to fight now theres a lot of lone riders so baby beware after the warmth of his whisper in the cool night air it'll be hard to wake up to that handsome cold blank stare cause theres a hell of a lot of lonely waiting out that when love is blind sometimes the lies will get you through the night im holding on to what i need till youre too tired to fight now theres a whole lotta lonely

waiting out there
theres only so much sorrow that a heart can bear theres a hell of a lot of lonely waiting out there theres a hell of a lotta lonely baby im scared
