

Bon Jovi, Now And Forever

It's been a long time, baby, how've you been,
But it sure feels good to see you again, my friend.
I still remember just like yesterdays
Though the miles and the smiles roll on, they won't fade away
And it hurts just like hell to let go, but I know

Kings will be kings with crowns to defend
But I'm just one man and I can't pretend
A heart's just a heart and songs have to end
Dreams will be dreams and friends will be friends
Now and forever, now and forever

I still remember when you didn't know my name.
We were lost on the road but you made it my home just the same,
God I wanna say that you gotta hold on when we go our separate ways

But when your radio's on, you're hearing this song
I hope that you say nothing's changed

Kings will be kings with crowns to defend
But I'm just one man and I can't pretend
A heart's just a heart and songs have to end
Dreams will be dreams and friends will be friends
Now and forever, now and forever

Kings will be kings with crowns to defend
But I'm just one man and I can't pretend
A heart's just a heart and songs have to end
Now dreams will be dreams and friends will be friends
Now and forever, now and forever.
