

Bonepony, Savanna Flowers

Hey Mister Sunshine and Misses Laughter
I know the daughter your chasing after Born with a smile that every angel knows
Savanna shows

Intrepid moon beam
Shining on my shoulder
You'll long to marry her when she gets older but You're a lunatic faithful to the night and
She needs more light than you to grow

Oh she's a flower in the spring
Oh Savanna Flowers
And we marvel at the miracle and the beauty that revolves around her
Oh Savanna Flowers and we just watch her grow

Outside the rumble of distant thunder
Soon the rain will be falling down
Make the rivers tumble
Savanna Flowers will surely be in bloom
To brighten up each sage grass prairie heart
Cause we could use a little color inside

Oh she's a flower in the spring
Oh Savanna Flowers
And we marvel at the miracle and the beauty that revolves around her
Oh Savanna Flowers and we just watch her grow

Oh she's a flower in the spring
Oh Savanna Flowers
and we marvel at the miracle and the beauty that revolves around her
Oh Savanna Flowers and we just watch her grow
