

Bowling For Soup, Other Girls

It only takes a minute yeah a minute or two just like stubbin your toe or slammin the door on your finger pull out the stinger then move on to the next little drama queen and go and get some sleep, dream yeah lay your head back and dream about a girl you had that broke your broken heart the one that said shed love you from the start and when the nightmares over come and thank her for all the memories

injuries
flowered sheets
and hypocracies
all the picture frames
the carpet stains
and say thank you for your time

thats what other girls are for if we want out somebody will make some more no need to pick yourself
up off the floor
cuz thats what other girls are for it doesnt make a difference it doesnt matter at all shes just another chapter another song you loved then hated shes overrated

so send her flowers sayin thank you for

if we want out somebody will make some more

theres just something about em ya know theyre like Top 40 radio and if youre having trouble let it go then maybe you should move to Canada, now!!
