

Bowling For Soup, She's Got A Boyfriend

She used to be the happiest girl I knew and
I remember seeing her laugh
I remember the time she cried
When tears filler her eyes
As we sang "Love Song" by Tesla
Her smile is turning upside down
She's got a boyfriend now

She's got a boyfriend now
And it's hard to see
What she's got herself into
She's getting used to
The loneliness that's bottled up inside
She knows she'll stick right through the sad times
And all the bad times
'Cuz it's up to her to make some sense somehow
She's got a boyfriend now

She always knew she'd find the right guy
Who'd hold her through the night
Someone she'd take to meet her mom
And take her to see Britney Spears
Who knows if Clark Kent is a Superman?
Or if he's just an asshole
Leading on and on
And on and on and on

She's got a boyfriend now
And it's hard to see
What she's got herself into
She's getting used to
The loneliness that's bottled up inside
She knows she'll stick right through the sad times
And all the bad times
'Cuz it's up to her to make some sense somehow
She's got a boyfriend now
She's got a boyfriend now

Why does it always have to be
Guys like that always get to be the one
She thinks the world of
And why does it always have to be
Girls like that can't ever find someone
Someone like me
And it's hard to know the difference
Between inside and out
When she asks if I can mend her broken heart
I wouldn't know where to start

She got what she always wanted
She got what she always wanted

(She's only crying on the inside)

She's got a boyfriend now
And it's hard to see
What she's got herself into
She's getting used to
The loneliness that's bottled up inside
She knows she'll stick right through the sad times
And all the bad times
'Cuz it's up to her to make some sense somehow
She's got a boyfriend now

She's got a boyfriend now
And it's hard to see
What she's got herself into
She's getting used to
The loneliness that's bottled up inside
She knows she'll stick right through the sad times
And all the bad times
'Cuz it's up to her to make some sense somehow
She's got a boyfriend now
