

Boyzone, This Is Where I Belong

Here I stand in the northern rain
And I can't believe I'm home again
And I can't believe how nothing's changed
I'm finding my way
Old park bench where I carved my name
But now it doesn't stand alone
Cause now the trees have over grown
Many a road that I've travelled
That's led me a stray
Here's where my heart's gonna stay

This is where I belong
This is where I come from
No need to shed my tears
Or face my fears anymore
So I won't walk alone
Taking things on my own
All of the lands I've roamed
Memories of my home
They keep beating strong
Cause this is where I belong

There you stood in the open door
Just like so many years before
When I told you that I needed more
In my life
I was wrong to ever walk away
Abandon all the love that we made
But now I've learned from all my mistakes
Just like a star in the sky
Guiding me on
Your love is pulling me home

[CHORUS]

Just like a star in the sky
Guiding me on
Your love is pulling me home

[CHORUS to fade]
