

Bracket, Warren's Song Pt. 20

how does it feel to be me? sadness dulls everything that i see watching my life waste away tomorrow will be just like any other day and i can't wait i want my life to improve anxieties cripple my every move nowhere to go so i'll stay forgetting that time is running out for me tell me i'm not alone

it's all i've ever known

? the finer side
but i care what i'm trying to hide that's what it means to be me nowhere to go when pain is all i ever see

give me a better way to make my days pass away for a ? too long string me along
