Braid, Collect From Clark Kent

honey please don't ignore me please accept this call i'm on the corner of cough and cold and i'm a lovestruck lost soul

honey understand me i'm not sure to fly in fact i'm super stupid tonight and all the loose ends remain untied

but once in your arms we'll rise above the ground you and me and the beautiful aerial view of sunrise city i'm never coming down in your arms we'll rise above the clouds me and you in the sweetest sheets of blue i'm never coming down but come and pick me up first please.
