

Brainpool, And The Wall

HANNES: Every night I close the door
Staring at the ceiling And the Wall
The TV's on, the sound is off
TV-shop and talk-shows
Every night I close the door
Staring at the ceiling And the Wall
I never knew my life would be this obsolete
But it's too late to change it
I have considered ending it
But don't know how to fake it

MARTINA: You need a new TV
